Unfinished Business:

1. Kent will continue to work with Holly with Sentry Mapping in hopes to finalize a better final copy. It seems they are moving away from paper copy maps and are working on a new pilot program or online version, something that can be edited.
2. The large colony of bees in the old tree has finally been resolved thanks to the efforts of Kent. He found someone who came out and identified them as honey bees. The bees were vacuumed out and took off the property to be rehomed at his residence where he keeps several hives. There were somewhere around 450 bees removed. He also sealed up the tree to prevent another colony taking residence.
There was no charge for his services.

New Business:

1. Walk Through/Grounds Evaluation:
 - A. Jeff will contact a business to remove unwanted bushes and other growing plants and trees that are getting out of hand.
 - B. We are still looking for an animal control company for the ground hog.
 - C. Jeff installed a new trash container on the east side of the upper shed.
